

Life never takes a holiday – it happens at its own pace.

Whether you're expecting them or not, major life events happen: You lose your current job. You get a new job. Perhaps you have to undergo an unexpected hospitalization, or you welcome a new child into the world. At times like these and with the holiday season around the corner, one of the last things you want to think about is your monthly credit card payment.

The good news is that we may be able to help. Your Discover® Payment Protection membership allows you to put your minimum payments, interest and product fees on hold anywhere from 3 months up to 24 months depending on your life event. With 15 different types of life events, your membership is designed to help you through a financial setback, not to add to your financial concerns. It's important to understand that as long as your account is current when you activate a benefit, it does not negatively affect your credit.

Major life changes tend to have little respect for your personal calendar — they can happen in any season. If you've had a life event since the beginning of your enrollment, then go ahead and give us a call to see if you qualify. With the holidays upcoming, allow your Payment Protection membership to help you enjoy time with family and friends.

Still Not Sure How This Works? We're Here to Help

Visit Discover.com/dpp to learn more and to see your full Terms and Conditions, or call 800-290-9895.

Discover Payment Protection is a paid membership that is optional and voluntary.

DISCOVER®

